The 2026 Land Rover Range Rover Sport P400 Dynamic SE is the definitive sweet spot of the lineup, offering the perfect marriage of electrified efficiency and effortless straight-line performance. Powered by the sophisticated 395 hp Ingenium inline-six with Mild Hybrid (MHEV) technology, this Sport delivers a crisp 5.7-second sprint to 100 km/h, smoothed out by a 48V system that harvests energy during deceleration to sharpen throttle response. The "Dynamic" in its name isn't just marketing—it translates to a standard Dynamic Air Suspension and Terrain Response® 2 system that allows the vehicle to read the road and adjust its character in milliseconds. Inside, the 2026 model remains a high-tech sanctuary featuring the massive 13.1-inch floating curved glass interface and Windsor leather seating. For the Canadian driver, the P400 Dynamic SE offers a "go-anywhere" capability with a 7,716 lb towing capacity and advanced 3D Surround Cameras, ensuring it is as comfortable navigating a tight downtown parking garage as it is a snow-covered pass in the Rockies.
